DETAILED ACTION

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 112

1. The following is a quotation of the first paragraph of 35 U.S.C. 112:

The specification shall contain a written description of the invention, and of the manner and process of making and using it, in such full, clear, concise, and exact terms as to enable any person skilled in the art to which it pertains, or with which it is most nearly connected, to make and use the same and shall set forth the best mode contemplated by the inventor of carrying out his invention.

2. Claim 1 is rejected under 35 U.S.C. 112, first paragraph, as failing to comply with the written description requirement. The claim(s) contains subject matter which was not described in the specification in such a way as to reasonably convey to one skilled in the relevant art that the inventor(s), at the time the application was filed, had possession of the claimed invention. The description on pages 6, 7, and 10 of 30 to 60 parts by weight of the carbon black has no reference or absolute value compared to the polyester so it is impossible to determine the amount of carbon black. The Examiner suggests that there may be support for correction to the specification and claim 1 based on page 18 the examples.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 112

3. The following is a quotation of the second paragraph of 35 U.S.C. 112:

The specification shall conclude with one or more claims particularly pointing out and distinctly claiming the subject matter which the applicant regards as his invention.

1. Claims 1-6 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 112, second paragraph, as being indefinite for failing to particularly point out and distinctly claim the subject matter which applicant regards as the invention. The claims merely set forth physical characteristics of lightness and reflectance, not setting forth specific compositions which would meet such characteristics are vague, indefinite, and functional since they cover any conceivable combinations of ingredients either presently existing or which might be discovered in the future and which would impart the desired characteristic color (Ex parte Slob, 157 USPQ 172).

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 102

4. The following is a quotation of the appropriate paragraphs of 35 U.S.C. 102 that form the basis for the rejections under this section made in this Office action:

A person shall be entitled to a patent unless –

(b) the invention was patented or described in a printed publication in this or a foreign country or in public use or on sale in this country, more than one year prior to the date of application for patent in the United States.

5. Claims 1-3 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(b) as anticipated by or, in the alternative, under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as obvious over Stack (6,121,369). Stack teaches a master batch formed from polyester and a 10-500 nm particle size carbon black in the amount of up to 50 weight percent based on the composition (col. 5 lines 30-34). It is inherent that the composition would possess the desired properties of lightness and reflectance. In the alternative, it would have been obvious to one of ordinary skill in the art to incorporate these characteristics in to the composition taught by Stack because of the expectation of similar results due to the similarities in compositions.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 103

6. The following is a quotation of 35 U.S.C. 103(a) which forms the basis for all obviousness rejections set forth in this Office action:

(a) A patent may not be obtained though the invention is not identically disclosed or described as set forth in section 102 of this title, if the differences between the subject matter sought to be patented and the prior art are such that the subject matter as a whole would have been obvious at the time the invention was made to a person having ordinary skill in the art to which said subject matter pertains. Patentability shall not be negated by the manner in which the invention was made.

7. Claims 4-6 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over Stack (6,121,369) as applied to claims 1-3 above, and further in view of that it is well known in the art to have an oil absorption value for carbon black and to use a master batch for forming electrophotographic toners (page 3 of instant specification). It would have been obvious to one of ordinary skill in the art to incorporate these well known and art recognized applications in to the composition taught by Stack because of the expectation of similar results due to the similarities in compositions.

8. Claims 1-6 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(b) as anticipated by or, in the alternative, under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as obvious over Takiguchi (JP 10-319642). Takiguchi teaches a master batch for toner applications formed from polyester and a 40 nm particle size carbon black in the amount of 40 weight percent based on the composition (examples). It is inherent that the composition would possess the desired properties of lightness and reflectance. In the alternative, It would have been obvious to one of ordinary skill in the art to incorporate these characteristics in to the composition taught by Takiguchi because of the expectation of similar results due to the similarities in compositions.
